

Insecure:

UT students discuss how insecurity shows up in relationships, including feeling jealousy, trying to place limitations on the other person, not being able to admit fault, not having a strong grasp of who you are as a person, being sensitive to other's insecurities, and talking through these feelings with your partner.